

FALL TERM 2011

The Global Gender Matters Network

Hosted by the Department of Gender Studies
Faculty of Social Sciences
Lund University

Organizes a Seminar Series on:

Cross-Cultural Comparative Gender Studies

Comparative analysis has expanded from its original location within politics and economy to also include scholarship on social movements, classification systems, the construction of identities, and new family systems to mention a few. In the fall of 2011, the Global Gender Matters seminar series will explore the analytical advantages and problems embedded in comparative studies. For each of the seminars particular texts will be read (for further information, please contact the organizers).

Meetings, Fall 2011:

- Tuesday September 6, 13-15
- Monday, October 3, 13-15
- Tuesday, November 1, 15-17
- Tuesday, December 6, 15-17

About the Global Gender Matters Network

In a rapidly changing global world, gender matters cross borders and render new meanings. The Global Gender Matters Network examines the transnational ways in which gender is configured socio-culturally, economically, and politically in Africa, Asia, the Caribbean, and Latin America. The Network encourages scholars with a particular interest in global gender matters to meet and discuss how sexualized and racialized roles, relationships, powers, and conflicts inform gender ideas and practices in particular non-Western contexts.

Everybody is very welcome!
